

Jennifer LaBelle, Parent

I am a supporter of improving our schools nationally and of the idea of a common core of standards which all student should know and be able to execute. However, I disagree that teacher assessments should be tied to student performance and that kids should undergo such excessive testing to that end. Teachers should be given leeway in how to teach, inspire and engage with our kids and should no be motivated to teach to the test. Thank you for working to improve public education.