

Katie Zahedi, Administrator, Red Hook Schools

"The waste of time and money on mandated nonsensical reform is an outrage. The harm to our schools and to New York's children is incalculable. In the age of "accountability" all those who authored and supported this fiasco should change course immediately or face public censure in the near future."