

Lisa Alterio, Teacher, MTPLCSD

It is not fair to implement the Common Core standards to all grade levels at the same time. If we want to see if it really works start in the Elementary level first and let those kids move up with the common core to the High School level. Starting the Common Core in the HS level is an injustice to our kids because they have not been exposed to the Common Core curriculum to be able to achieve.