Melanie Baehre, Parent

Common core is terrible. It takes all creativity out of teaching for the teacher and all logic from the content for students. There is no creative problem solving. There isn't critical thinking. It is turning our kids into mindless drones who hate school. Test score should not be linked to teacher evaluations. In fact, standardized testing doesn't work. Get rid of it. Let teachers teach and children learn.