

Susan Baker, Teacher, Lancaster Central Schools

The Common Core is not an asset to teaching. I am a special education teacher and my kids are stressed and feel completely discouraged. I find it so rigorous that I don't have time for individualized instruction that my students require.