

Bridget Banta, Parent

I believe that the standardize testing should not be linked to a teacher's performance. In addition students should not be taking exams on ipads come third grade. If teachers had more opportunity to teach to each individual and not to a general test, I believe each student would have more individual growth and success and less students would be behind.