

Jennifer Bergin, Parent

I believe too much focus on common core test scores for teachers negatively affects students, teachers and the quality of education. I would like to see teachers evaluations not be affected by test scores.