

Tara Daly, Parent, School 30

Common Core is garbage. Scores on all state assessments have and will continue to go down with this agenda. It does not take into account the developmental level of children nor special needs nor English language learners. New York need to abandon this program NOW. Parents of school age children cannot help their children with homework because no one knows what the common core is teaching much less expecting. None of it makes sense and it is ridiculous. Why are 1st graders learning Algebra? Ludicrous! Abandon common core now.