

Christopher Evanco, Teacher, Lancaster Central School District

The Common Core Standards and Testing is elitist. Not everyone is college bound. Nor is it fair to base teacher evaluations on standards that are not attainable for many students. Many students either opt out or are overwhelmed and don't try on these tests. These tests are also unreliable and invalid. To use these result to evaluate teacher is a thin veil to hide the real issue at hand; union busting.