

Jennifer Fahy, Parent

"While I believe some common core tactics of teaching are beneficial to those who don't learn the structured way and don't want to see those kids left behind, the ridiculous standard of work imposed on these children is hindering their confidence, their creativity and leaving the teachers to lose out on doing what they truly love in fear of a test score. Teachers and students are worth more. Please remove the strict standards of common core now."