

Michael Gembar, Parent

I am disappointed in the state double down on Common Core theory. We need to get back to the basics. The belief that everyone should go to college is flawed!! and to say that college should be free...there is a way, join the military! God Bless America