"I think the common core program is not good for our children. It was designed with failure in mind. I don't feel teachers should be evaluated on one test. Kids could have a bad day. The material they get tested on should be the level they are on, not 3 or 4 levels higher. There are other ways to hold the teachers accountable. The way the kids are being taught are confusing and they don't make sense. Not every child learns the same and therefore should not be taught the same. The way the common core was put into place was not the correct way of doing it. I hope you take this into consideration.

Thank You for your time
