

Daria Hagan, Parent

"The common core is probably one of the biggest mistakes NYS has ever made. You cannot all of a sudden tell a 7th or 8th grader they have to relearn everything they were taught especially in math!! The subject is complex enough already. Especially last year when some schools offered two different regents in math!! You should go back to the way of teaching before common core."