

John Janicki, Teacher

The common core learning standards are causing many students to hate math. With the first year of implementation of the Algebra 2 curriculum, I have seen more students cry and hate math than in my first 17 years teaching combined. We are telling kids that they are dumb with this curriculum. That is how they feel because they can't get it.