

Vince LoTempio, Parent

I believe that common core and all of the testing that goes with it must be dumped in NYS. We had great standards in NY, and due to a misguided money grab destroyed them.

I also think that state testing takes up way too much emphasis and instructional time for our students. The results should also NOT be used to evaluate our schools or teachers. Common Core is being driven by corporate entities that stand to make millions on our kids and taxpayer dollars with this type of test and punish system. They also are very willing to provide materials at a huge expense to help districts "teach to the test." I would rather see our kids educated than just programmed to fill in bubble sheets.