

Samantha Lowe, Parent

"I am not object to the common core as a guideline for curriculum but am HIGHLY opposed to teaching for the test! A lot is lost in creativity, enrichment and innovative teaching because teachers have become frightened by the prospect of their students performing poorly on the exams and the impact it will have on their jobs. It is destroying the excellent schools in this state that did not need this as a motivator to teach well."