

Amy Moberg, Teacher, Lancaster Central School District

The high-stakes testing for students, which is directly tied to teacher APPR scores needs to stop. The tests are developmentally inappropriate in some cases with passages above students' grade level reading ability.