

Renee Maldonado, Parent

"I want the standards gone. There is WAY too much testing. It has been out long enough to show its not working. To be fair maybe if the standards were introduced to the kids just starting school it may have worked. Instead everyone was thrown into it. This hurt many children. I do not believe teachers should be held accountable for these standards either."