

Melissa McNeese, Parent

"Who is measuring the # of kids who have started seeing therapists and taking anti-anxiety drugs since the schools had to change what they were doing? The # of special ed kids who have left their schools? How many have turned to homeschooling? Let the schools go back to doing what they were doing. You owe the students an apology, esp. those in 9th and 10th grades. They need to get their footing and confidence back. It's already too late."