

Lisa Morales, Parent

"Common core standars are hurting my children mentally and pyhsically. My children feel they are not smart eniugh because they don't get math anymore. They have anxiety about taking tests because they dont know the answers because they have nit learned the material yet. My children deserve to love learning and be free thinkers and common core does not work for all children to think like a robot. Let learning be fun again and give teachers their classroom back and leave the teaching to them. Stop making profit off my child by selling their information."