In my opinion teachers are now teaching to a test and are now no longer free to teach to a child's needs. Furthermore, sometimes a child can know an answer intuitively and may not be able to show all there work. That does not make the answer wrong. Changing the way a child naturally thinks is not helping our education issue. On the contrary I feel Commom Core is all smokes and mirrors and isn't helping kids at all. It's a way to deflect the education issues we have. Common core hasn't dealt with the real issue in education!
