

Peter R Stambleck, Parent

When a parent with graduate degree is unable to help their child with homework we have a serious problem. That problem is common core. It should be eliminated from all schools.