

Andrea Sileo, Parent

"Common Core is ruining our children. It is frustrating them and making them feel like failures. The content of the material is way above grade level and every child is not capable of learning at the same pace as the next child. School was fun when I was a kid and now kids are hating it. Something needs to be done. Our kids are suffering."