

Brett Summers, Parent, Byram Hill Board Member

"I appreciate what academics are trying to do with the common core and support those efforts. Practitioners, however, were mistakenly left out of the implementation phase, which has been an embarrassment for the SED. And the linkage to teacher evaluation and over testing will ultimately erode parental support."