

Ali Weiss, Parent

"I think the testing in our schools is ridiculous. It takes away from real learning in the classrooms. Our teachers are pressured by the government which takes away from important curriculum. I don't like the work that comes home with my children all driven by the common core. I see no positives. I will probably opt out for my children. There needs to be a change."