

Michael Young, Teacher, Byram Hills High School

"I am pro testing when it can be used as a tool to provide feedback to both teachers and students to further learning. Not releasing administered exams leads to ambiguity and unnecessary stress.

I am against processes that are rushed and not rooted in research that proves their validity."