

Tracy Young, Parent, Greenville Middle School

"I support the decision to improve the standard for our children but am appalled by the insensitivity that has been shown in the roll out. Change can be uncomfortable but it shouldn't be devastating. The biggest mistake (and hence the public outcry) stems mostly from the decision to link test performance to teacher evaluations."